Variety's Petroff Blanks Drug Store For Co-op Babe Ruth League Title

Variety Store, sparked by its pitcher-captain Barry Petroff and catcher Billy Andrusic - who hit safely in both his team's scoring innings, defeated Drug Store, 7 to 0, to win the first annual Co-op Babe Ruth League of Greenbelt championship. Since the second half ended in a tie between these teams, this game was a play-off for the half-Variety had already won the first half. This stunning Petroff shutout - second in league play this summer - gave Variety top spot in both halves and the 1954 title.

For three innings it was a scoreless duel between Drug Store's captain, Mike Canning, and Petroff. Barry had fanned six of the first nine outs and Drug Store's infielders were terrific in killing off Variety smashes for outs.

Variety switched tactics in the fourth and put two men on by bunting. Andrusic laid one down first and Bob McKenzie dumped one to third. Throwing errors placed the boys on second and third and they both romped home on Petroff's line drive double to right-center.

Paul McDonald was hit by a Canning pitch to start the fifth inning rally. Bill Morin followed with a single and Ronnie DonBullian drew a walk. Andrusic's two-bagger got McDonald and Morin home. After two infield outs Jimmy Hahn plated Andy and DonBullian with another rollicking double. Hahn tallied the game's last run when Carroll "The K" Barcus booted Sam Barron's grounder.

Shortstop Bobby Canning made a couple of plays bordering on the sensational and collected two of his team's 4 hits off Petroff.

Committees have been formed and are already at work. The officers have met several times with the principal and a schedule of membership meetings has been formulated.

The first PT-A meetings will be held on Tuesday, October 5. The date was changed from September 28 to avoid conflict with the Jewish holidays.

The program committee is headed by Morris Solomon, and the membership committee by Vincent Caruso. 3 Cars Looted In 17 Court of Ridge

Three automobiles were burglarized last Monday evening in the 17 court of Ridge. The radios and overhead interior lights were removed from all three vehicles. Although all cars were locked, the thieves forced entry.

Police Chief George Panagoulis is conducting an intense investigation. He disclosed that two teenagers were apprehended the previous night, ransacking cars on Parkway. They were from the Brentwood area of Maryland. Several other teen-agers from the Brentwood area were also apprehended by Hyattsville police earlier in the week.

Panagoulis says authorities believe an organized gang of teenagers from the Brentwood area are engaged in theft of auto accessories and are disposing of the loot through a "fence." He warns all local motorists to lock their cars and take other safety precautions until the gang is taken into custody.

Church Carnival Rain or Shine

"Rain or shine, the Community Church Carnival will be held on Saturday, September 18," according to an announcement from Robert Fisher, carnival coordinator.

"If it rains," Fisher stated, "we'll move just about everything except maybe the ponies, inside."

"The fish will taste just as good in the Social Hall," he added. When asked what the fish would be, he smacked his lips. "Take your choice of spot or haddock, oyster patties or shrimp, all served with potato chips, cole slaw and hush puppies, done to a turn by that old fish fry hand, Stanley Edwards."

Other food, in addition to the fish, to be served throughout the day are hot dogs, individually or with cole slaw and hush puppies, cup cakes, pie a la mode, ice cream, coffee and soft drinks.

"The booths will open about noon on Saturday and close about 7:30 or 8, and prizes will be given out as soon as they are won," Fisher said. "Prices for everything, including food, will be reasonable, in keeping with the 'family' spirit of the event."

"In addition to the events announced in last week's Cooperator," Fisher said, "there will be two ponies (which may answer to the names of Trigger and Smokey) to take the kids on a ride, a number of cartoon movies, and a snowball booth operated by the Men's Bible Class."

Admission to all events and booths will be tickets, in small denominations, sold by cashiers at the carnival.

Final action on the carnival plans were taken last Sunday at a general church council meeting with the acceptance of volunteers Eric T. Braund, church pastor, James Beck, Robert Halpin, Bruce Bowman, Chris Mullady and Ralph Bartholomew, to act as a "clean-up" committee.

Paper Is Renamed "News Review;" New Board of Directors Elected

After 17 continuous years of publication under the name of the Greenbelt Cooperator, Greenbelt's weekly newspaper will appear with a new name as of next week's issue. The name, which will appear in a new type form, is the Greenbelt News Review.

FLASH

James Smith, Greenbelt Motors prexy, a former professional tobacco auctioneer, has agreed to serve as auctioneer at the old-fashioned auction to be put on by the Women's Guild at the Community Church Carnival Saturday, September 18, according to information received from the carnival publicity committee.

PCF Sponsors Talk By Toyohiko Kagawa

Toyohiko Kagawa, world-renowned Japanese cooperative and church leader, will speak in Washington on Monday, September 20. He will talk at 8 p.m. in the Calvary Baptist Church, 8th and H Sts., N.W., at a meeting sponsored by the Potomac Cooperative Federation, a regional association of consumer co-ops.

Many thousands of persons in all parts of the world have been thrilled by Dr. Kagawa's story of how cooperatives, churches, labor unions and other institutions are helping to rebuild democracy in his native country. On his last trip to Washington, in October 1950, he spoke to audiences totalling more than 2,000.

For some 40 years Kagawa has led a crusade for slum clearance in Japan. The son of a wealthy businessman, he chose to live for 14 years in the heart of Shinkawa, an infamous slum area in the city of Kobe. He shared fully in the incredible poverty and misery of Shinkawa's inhabitants to gain a compassionate understanding of their problems.

Dr. Kagawa exposed Shinkawa's squalor in his first book, "Across the Death-Line" and dealt with the causes and cures of poverty in his second, "The Psychology of Poverty." Royalties from his writings helped him to carry on a campaign to abolish the slums and in 1926 the Japanese government appropriated $10 millions for slum-clearance projects.

In addition to his evening talk on September 20, Kagawa will speak at 12:10 p.m. in the First Congregational Church, 10th and G Sts., N.W., at a meeting sponsored by the Washington Federation of Churches. Both meetings are open to the public and admission is free.

The name was formally selected by the board of directors of the Greenbelt Cooperative Publishing Association following an indication of preference for the name by a majority of staff members at the annual membership meeting Monday, September 13.

A previous public opinion poll conducted by the newspaper had resulted in a disappointing turnout, in which less than one hundred ballots were cast. About one-third of the votes preferred to retain the name of the Cooperator, while the remaining two-thirds of the votes were scattered among a variety of names.

A majority of the board of directors felt these results indicated a large majority preferred some name other than the Cooperator and therefore reaffirmed a previous decision to change the name. The new name was originally suggested by Harry Zubkoff, editor of the newspaper.

New Board

A new board of directors was also elected at the annual meeting. Members of the new board, which will take office on October 1, are Isadore J. Parker (reelected), Eleanor Ritchie, Russell Greenbaum, Carolyn Miller, and Miriam Solomon (reelected). Retiring members of the old board are Zubkoff, Bernard Krug, and George Bloom.

Zubkoff's one-year term as editor of the newspaper will end as of October 1, at which time the new board will select a new editor as well as elect officers.

BRL At Gaithersburg For One Last Game

Final Co-op Babe Ruth League of Greenbelt function of its maiden year will be performed at Gaithersburg Fairgrounds Stadium this Sunday. Members of Co-op Variety Store championship team will be presented their trophies by store manager Jack De Kowzan just prior to the league's last ball game of the season.

The exhibition ball game is one of the features of the annual Greenbelt Consumer Services' annual barbecue and picnic. Game time is one o'clock. Two squads for the game will be chosen from the entire league roster. Coach Bill Moore is very desirous of a large turnout of his Babe Ruthers. All players are to be in full Babe Ruth League uniforms for this last game. Tickets for the barbecue will be free for all the participating players.

Transportation for players from Greenbelt to Gaithersburg and return is needed. Players and rides are requested to meet in front of the swimming pool at eleven o'clock Sunday. Moore will take the first carful in order to make the diamond ready for the game. Coach Don Wolfe will remain at the swimming pool terminus until the last of the players leave, keeping a departure list.

Players' parents, who are willing to take a couple extra players in their cars, are urged to observe above departure point and time.

"Traveling by telephone's so easy!"

"Last Sunday, for instance, we 'traveled' to Seattle by telephone to congratulate my folks on their wedding anniversary. Were they thrilled!

Telephone service does so many things for you; saves you so much time and trouble. It's on the job 24 hours a day. No wonder folks say, "Telephone service is one of the biggest bargains I buy."

Annual Co-op Bar-B-Q Sunday, September 19

Greenbelt Consumer Services will join with other Potomac area co-ops in a giant barbecue at the Montgomery County Fair Grounds in Gaithersburg on Sunday, September 19 from 1 p.m. until dark. The Potomac Cooperative Federation, which sponsors the affair, has announced that Washington's favorite cowboy, TV star Billy Johnson, will be on hand at 3 p.m., with his guitar, to sing and to greet his young audience.

Other attractions will include a ball game played at 2 p.m. by the Babe Ruth League of Greenbelt. There will be games, races, even an egg-throwing contest. The children will enjoy hayrides from the entrance to the fairgrounds to the barbecue site, as well as pony rides, a merry-go-round, and rides on a junior fire truck. The crowd will be entertained by a fine school band and majorettes from the Carver High School in Rockville. Evelyn Rosenberg of Washington, D. C. and Charlotte Schubert of Hampton, Va., will bring talented dancers in costume to demonstrate folk and square dances; following the demonstration, the public will be invited to join in folk and square dancing. There will be a symphony corner for music-lovers. Governor Theodore McKeldin and other distinguished visitors are expected to be on hand to be introduced at 5 p.m. The affair will close with a bonfire at dusk.

An extra feature of this year's event will be the presentation of awards to outstanding co-op leaders in the Potomac area. The awards committee, headed by John Carson, former Washington representative of the Co-op League of the U.S.A., will consider nominations for outstanding leadership and service in two classes: co-op employees with 5 or more years of service, and active co-op members with 10 or more years of participation. Employee awards will be judged by lay members Benjamin Rosenzweig, Florence Parker, David Scull and John Carson. Lay member awards will be judged by employees Bassett Ferguson, William Petri and William Blaisdell. Information concerning outstanding service in either group should be submitted to John Carson, c/o Potomac Cooperative Federation, 1129 Vermont Ave., N. W., Washington 5, D. C.

Last year's co-op barbecue, at Greenbelt, drew a crowd of over a thousand persons; this year's committee, under the chairmanship of Dr. Leroy A. Halbert, is planning for an even larger crowd. Greenbelt's Mrs. Gail Harper is in charge of food preparation and will welcome volunteers to help on Saturday or Sunday. (Call GR. 3-7046.) The pork barbecue will again be prepared under the expert direction of James Smith of Greenbelt. Also on the menu will be chicken burgoo, potato salad, cole slaw, ice cream and coffee or fruit juice, served from 1 to 3 p.m. GCS will operate a snack bar later in the afternoon.

Tickets for the barbecue and programs are available at the GCS office, the supermarket or the drugstore. Tickets may be purchased by mail from the Potomac Cooperative Federation, 1129 Vermont Ave., N.W., Washington 5, D. C. The GCS quarterly membership meeting is scheduled for 4:30 p.m. at the barbecue site.

GVHC To Turn Sound Truck Loose In Last Try For Meeting Attendance

By Russell Greenbaum

Refusing to believe without further proof that the poor attendance at the last quarterly membership meeting was the result of a complacent attitude on the part of the members, Ralph Webster, president of the Greenbelt Veteran Housing Corporation, said that every possible effort will be exerted to increase attendance at future GVHC membership meetings.

It was disclosed at a board meeting last Friday, that plans to send out fliers to all residents reminding them of the meeting went awry. It is planned to send a sound truck on a swing around Greenbelt to announce the next meeting.

If these efforts fail to bring out members in larger numbers, the board will then be inclined to feel that the members have little interest in questioning the activities of the board of directors. Director Lloyd Moore pointed out that many members probably feel they obtain sufficient information about the progress and activities of GVHC from the monthly GVHC Newsletter and the Cooperator.

New Trucks

A proposal to purchase two new trucks for a maximum of $36,000 was made by Moore, GVHC treasurer. These will be used to replace two pre-war trucks whose upkeep is no longer worthwhile. The motion was approved unanimously and awaits a second reading before final approval. Webster suggested that all GVHC trucks carry special insignia and adopt the same uniform color.

The board also voted to contribute $15 towards the $100 in prizes to be distributed in the essay contest sponsored by the Greenbelt Clean-up Committee.

Democrats Sponsor Greenbelt Festival

Dr. H. C. Byrd, Democratic candidate for governor in the coming election, will be present at a gala "Greenbelt Festival" to be held at the Greenbelt Lake on September 25 and sponsored by the Democratic Club of Greenbelt. Further details on this event will be forthcoming, announced Hal Silvers, Democratic club representative.

Next meeting of the Democratic Club will be held at the Community building on September 22, Wednesday, at 8:30 p.m.
